Core Curriculum Oversight Committee

Duties: The Core Curriculum Oversight Committee is responsible for monitoring the implementation of the core curriculum and to interpret it when changes are deemed appropriate. The Oversight Committee consists of twelve faculty members chosen by the Office for Academic Affairs after consultation with the Academic Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate, plus one representative of the Faculty Senate appointed by that body, plus two students appointed each year by the SGA. The Academic Reform Committee. For the sake of continuity, the faculty members appointed by the Office for Academic Affairs serve three-year terms scheduled so that one-third of this group is replaced each year. The Oversight Committee has the power to grant, deny, or revoke appropriate designations to courses proposed by the various divisions as part of the Core Curriculum.

The Oversight Committee also is empowered to appoint subcommittees to consider various categories of courses and to call in additional faculty and students for advice when their expertise is needed. Decisions of the Oversight Committee are subject to the approval of and may be appealed to the Office for Academic Affairs and the President.

Composition: The Core Curriculum Oversight Committee (CCOC) consists of the following voting members: at least twelve faculty members chosen by the Office for Academic Affairs after consultation with the Academic Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate, one representative of the Faculty Senate appointed by that body, plus a number of students equal to the number of CCOC subcommittees, to be appointed by the Student Government Association Academic Affairs Committee. The faculty members must be selected so that each undergraduate division on campus is represented by at least one voting member of the CCOC. The Assistant Provost for Academic Affairs and a representative of the Office of Academic Records shall serve as non-voting members. The Assistant Provost for Academic Records shall serve as the committee chair.

In addition, each academic dean appoints a divisional liaison. The liaison is a non-voting member of the committee whose primary responsibility is to facilitate communications among faculty, department heads, deans and the Core Curriculum Oversight Committee. All course material to be considered for core letter designation is routed through the liaison to the appropriate subcommittee. Once the Core Curriculum Oversight Committee has acted, the liaison is responsible for notifying the faculty member involved, the department head, and the dean's office.
