Curator A.S. Williams III Americana Collection

As curator of the A.S. Williams III Americana Collection, provide reference services to individuals, research help to classes, and hospitality to visitors who come to view the collection.

Provide background information on items in the collection and assist with incorporating use of the material into classroom presentations.

Provide ideas on marketing the collection to a wide audience. Implement outreach projects based on the strengths of the collection.

Provide individual and group presentations in the Collection; talk with professors about possible projects and garner some interest in using the collection in their curriculum.

Conduct group programs in the Williams Collection. Explore the possibility of presenting a unit on books of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth century, using Williams Collection materials.
