The University of Alabama
Privacy Statement & FERPA Policy

Privacy Statement

The University of Alabama respects your privacy and collects no personally identifiable information about you unless you affirmatively choose to make such information available to us. The University does not actively share personal information about Web site visitors. Personal information provided by visitors, such as e-mail addresses or information submitted via online forms, is used by the University to assist individual visitors as necessary. This assistance may involve redirecting an inquiry or comment to another University individual or unit better suited to provide resolution. Please CLICK HERE to view the University’s Privacy Statement.

FERPA Policy

The University of Alabama also complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act ("FERPA"), which prohibits the release of educational records without student permission. For more details on the FERPA Policy, CLICK HERE. Currently enrolled students should consult the University of Alabama Student Handbook or the University's Office of Academic Records and University Registrar for questions regarding the FERPA Policy.

Please direct any questions about this privacy statement, the practices of any University of Alabama Web site, or your use of this Web site to the Office of Web Communications.